PROVISIONAL PROGRAMME

24-28 OCTOBER 1977

MILNER PARK, JOHANNESBURG

REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

*You are tired with years of civilisation. I come and offer you what?
A single green leaf - GREY OWL*

Once in a lifetime opportunity to h

THE MOST EXCITING EVENT IN SOUTHERN AFRICA

THE WORLD WILDERNESS CONGRESS 1977

THE NEED FOR A WORLD WILDERNESS CONGRESS

Wilderness has become one of our more precious resources where man must travel on foot, horse, mule or by canoe. In the wilderness, freed from his daily stresses, man may contemplate his origins and spiritual values and can think anew on his role in life.

Throughout the world, there are organisations and individuals who subscribe to the need for wilderness areas, and until now have not had the opportunity or platform to voice their desires and plans.

THE PRINCIPAL OBJECTIVES OF THE CONGRESS

To establish a world-wide understanding of the need for wilderness areas.

To provide a platform for statesmen, scientists, artists, writers, poets and indigenous people from many parts of the world who have a profound understanding of the wilderness concept.

To enable the general public to understand that industrial and commercial growth must go hand in hand with the setting aside of more wild and natural areas.

To persuade the administrators of all nations that there is inadequate legislation governing the control and establishment of wilderness areas.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND?

There is an important message for you that will have a direct affect upon your way of life, whether you are businessman, housewife, student, farmer or conservationist.

You may not have the opportunity again of hearing and meeting in one place, at one time, 40 of the world's leading authorities in conservation and wilderness, from Alaska to Thailand (26 countries).

You can gain a better understanding of your place in the world and learn what you can do to preserve it.

If you would like your grandchildren to see an elephant or leopard, you need to find out what can be done now to protect our wildlife and natural areas for the future.

For the first time in South Africa you can meet a number of top international wildlife artists and view the best wildlife art available anywhere.

Every person attending the Congress will have their name recorded in a book which will become a permanent record of those who cared for our world and its survival.

HOW YOU CAN ATTEND!

You can register for the entire Congress or on a daily basis in one of the following ways:

- * By using the attached registration form.
- * By using your Standard Bank Card or Barclaycard.
