

Resolution #42

TITLE: Wild10 as an empowering platform for children and youth

WHEREAS:

We recognised the importance of children and youth participation in wilderness conservation activities, both to achieve better with regards to conservation programs, while further social development and community cohesion.

We acknowledge the leadership, expertise and inspiration of key speakers at Wild10 and their ability to encourage young people to raise consciousness and take action and.

THEREFORE:

We propose to develop wilderness communication strategies aimed to children and youth in the context of the next Wild10 Conference.

RESOLVED:

1. To plan the interaction between inspirational speakers and groups of children and youth along the span of Wild10 through workshop and outdoor activities.
2. Promote that in such workshops children share among themselves their experience and views of wilderness. These workshops should be facilitated by young people.
3. Undertake photography workshops for children and youth during the Wild10 event, whereby kids can interact with nature while learning from professional photographers.
