CALL TO ACTION

The undersigned founders have decided, on 23rd of May 2025, to establish a fundraising foundation named "Insamlingsstiftelsen WILD Foundation – Sápmi".

The foundation shall, in accordance with its adopted statutes, promote its purpose and ensure that the funds raised are managed responsibly and transparently. The foundation is subject to the supervision of the Swedish County Administrative Board.

All funds received after this call shall constitute an independent fund to promote the foundation's purposes, as stated below, and in accordance with the applicable statutes and regulations. The board, or any appointed trustee, undertakes to receive and manage the funds responsibly and in accordance with the foundation's objectives.

Type of foundation

Charitable foundation

Founders

Amy Lewis and Johanna Nilsson

Name of the foundation

The foundation's official name is "Charitable Foundation WILD Foundation – Sápmi," hereinafter referred to as WILD Sápmi.

Purpose of the foundation

The foundation aims to:

- promote Indigenous-led environmental and climate work in the Nordic parts of Sápmi and globally.
- promote education and awareness regarding Sámi environmental issues and traditional knowledge.
- develop collaborations with local, national, and international actors in environmental protection and Indigenous rights.
- carry out practical activities that benefit both nature and people in the region.
- compile and disseminate Indigenous traditional knowledge about the ecosystems of Sápmi.

- increase understanding of Indigenous-led nature, environmental, and climate efforts through communication, education, and events.

Assets

The foundation shall manage its assets derived from donations, grants, and other contributions received to support its purposes. If you wish to contribute with a donate, please contact us at info@wild.org, and we will assist you.

Kind regards,

Founders
